PREPARED FOR THE OWNER · THE PLAN FOR THE THIRTY DAYS AHEAD

One television market, forty-nine counties wide.

806 Willowdale Court stands in Russellwood Heights, in Oak Hill, seven miles south of downtown Nashville and inside Davidson County. Advertising of this kind is bought by market rather than by address, and the market this property sits in is Nashville — forty-nine counties across two states, reaching from the Kentucky line above Hopkinsville down to the Alabama border, and from the Tennessee River in the west to the Cumberland Plateau in the east.

Davidson County is drawn in blue on the map opposite. The other forty-eight counties of the market are shaded, and the whole footprint is outlined as one shape. The pale counties beyond that line sit outside this market; they are reached by the online advertising instead.

- DAVIDSON COUNTY
- REST OF THE NASHVILLE MARKET
- OUTSIDE THE MARKET

Davidson County was established from the property's own coordinates rather than inferred from the postcode. The federal address geocoder, the federal census-block service and a point-in-polygon test run against the federal county polygons each return Davidson, county 47037 — and that same test returns false for Williamson County next door. The forty-nine-county roster was taken from published county-by-market schedules and matched against the federal boundary file, with none unaccounted for. We describe this market by its county count rather than by a national ranking: published rankings disagree with one another and move from year to year, so the honest measure of reach is the ground it covers.

FORTY IN TENNESSEE · NINE IN KENTUCKY, SET IN GREY

WHY THE WHOLE MARKET

The buyer for this house is almost certainly already driving these roads. They are in Green Hills or Forest Hills and have run out of garden; they are in Brentwood or Franklin — which are Williamson County, not Davidson — and want the shorter run into town without giving up the land; or they are moving to Nashville and believe two level acres with a pool no longer exist inside the county. The whole market is targeted because that is the ground this audience moves across.

Land and quiet, without leaving the city.

Most houses offering two level acres, a pool and no homeowners association ask a buyer to drive out of Davidson County to reach them. This one does not. Radnor Lake is under two miles away in a straight line, the interstate a little over two, Green Hills under four, and downtown Nashville seven. The Williamson County line is one and seven tenths of a mile from the front door — close enough that the house sits among the schools, shops and commutes people move south for, while the address, the county and the taxes remain Nashville's. That is the whole of the argument, and out-of-home carries it unusually well: the people it is for are, by definition, already in a car somewhere in this market.

THE LAND IS THE HEADLINE, NOT THE HOUSE

A four-bedroom brick Colonial is not scarce here. Just under two level acres of it, with a gunite pool, brick terraces and a pool house, inside the Davidson County line and with no association to answer to, is. Every frame leads with the grounds.

02

THE AUDIENCE DOES NOT KNOW THIS EXISTS

Nobody searches for a thing they believe is gone. That is what out-of-home is good for and a property portal is not: it reaches people who are not looking, as they drive past the sort of lot they had given up on.

03

THE GEOGRAPHY IS DAVIDSON AND ITS RING

This is a Nashville house for a Nashville buyer. The emphasis is Davidson County and the counties immediately around it, not a national footprint.

04

ONE IDEA PER SCREEN, ONE ADDRESS FOR ALL OF THEM

A driver has a few seconds. Each frame carries the grounds, the acreage, the price and the web address, and nothing else. Every screen ends at the same short address, so a glance from a car can be recovered from a phone that evening.

COUNTIES IN THE MARKET

Chosen by area, not by billboard.

These screens do not work the way billboards used to. We do not take one sign on one road for a month. They are bought programmatically: we tell the exchange which parts of the market to serve the property into, and it places the advertisement on whatever screens are free there while the campaign runs. There is no list of board addresses in this document, and there will not be one. What we choose is the geography.

In practice that means roadside and public digital screens across the forty-nine counties on the previous page, weighted towards the five areas below.

AREA	TARGETED GEOGRAPHY	WHY IT IS INCLUDED
01	Davidson County, southern half · Oak Hill, Forest Hills, Green Hills, Belle Meade, Crieve Hall, Berry Hill HIGHEST PRIORITY	The county the property is in and the ground its buyer already lives on. Households who know Oak Hill, understand what a level acre is worth here, and can tell in one glance that a lot this size inside the county line is not a normal offering.
02	Northern Williamson County · Brentwood, Nolensville, Franklin HIGHEST PRIORITY	A separate county — Williamson, not Davidson — and the wealthiest ground in the market. Weighted heavily because its households moved south for land and now drive the run into Nashville daily. This property offers the land without the drive, one and seven tenths of a mile from their county line.
03	The rest of Davidson · downtown, the Gulch, East Nashville, Sylvan Park, Donelson HIGH PRIORITY	City-centre households trading up out of a townhouse or a narrow infill lot, for whom two acres seven miles from work is the thing they have been unable to find.
04	The commuter ring · Rutherford, Wilson, Sumner, Cheatham, Robertson — Murfreesboro, Lebanon, Hendersonville MODERATE PRIORITY	The counties whose residents drive into Davidson and pass within reach of the property on the way — people for whom Nashville is already a daily destination.
05	The balance of the forty-nine, including the nine Kentucky counties STEADY PRESENCE	The plateau to the east, the river counties to the west, the Kentucky line to the north. A lower share of delivery, so the whole market is covered for the full thirty days rather than in bursts.

WHERE THE EMPHASIS SITS

Areas 01 and 02 take the largest share of delivery: one is the ground the house stands on, the other the county whose households most want what it offers. The rest of Davidson takes the next share, the commuter ring a smaller one, and the remaining counties a lower, steady share so that nowhere is dark.

We would rather run everywhere in the market for the full thirty days at a measured weight than crowd two weeks and then disappear. One consequence of buying this way is worth saying plainly: we cannot promise a photograph of your house on a named sign at a named junction. What we can say is which parts of Tennessee and Kentucky saw it, and how often.

THE GROUNDS THE ADVERTISING LEADS WITH

The month ahead, in order.

The market, the areas inside it and where the emphasis sits are decided; the reasoning is on the pages before this one. What follows is the sequence. The steps in black are settled and ours to run. The two in grey are figures that do not exist yet, left blank rather than estimated.

01	THE ADVERTISEMENT	Built from the photography of the grounds, the pool and terraces and the house among its trees, in the Aperture setting used across the rest of the campaign.
02	YOUR SIGN-OFF	You see the advertisement and approve it before a single screen carries it. That one sign-off is yours.
03	AT LAUNCH	The campaign opens across all forty-nine counties of the Nashville market at once, weighted to southern Davidson and northern Williamson.
04	THIRTY DAYS	Continuous through the month that follows, at a measured weight, with no dark weeks and nowhere in the market unlit.
05	IMPRESSIONS	To be confirmed. We will state a figure only once an operator has committed to one in writing, and it will then be the number we are held to.
06	PERFORMANCE	Nothing measured. The campaign has not begun, so there is nothing here to read yet.
07	AT THE CLOSE	Once the thirty days are run, a report: which parts of Tennessee and Kentucky saw the property, and how often — whatever the operators are able to verify.

TWO THINGS THAT WILL NEVER APPEAR

No individual board and no screen count, at any stage. These are not applicable to a campaign bought this way: screens are served programmatically across the targeted areas, and which ones carry the advertisement varies hour by hour with what the exchange has available. We cannot promise a photograph of your house on a named sign; we can tell you the geography it ran in.

THE REST OF THE CAMPAIGN

Online advertising and a direct mail campaign run into the same part of Tennessee across the same thirty days; each is set out in its own document.
