MARKETING STRATEGY

312 Madison St, Germantown, Nashville, Tennessee

PREPARED SEPTEMBER 2026

The architecture finds the buyer.

Your home is not advertised everywhere. It is advertised where it matters. A Nick Dryden house in Historic Germantown, built of commercial-grade concrete and steel across three elevator-served levels, with five ensuite bedrooms and ten bathrooms over ten thousand square feet, is bought by a particular kind of buyer: someone who reads a building before they read a floor plan, who wants a city around them rather than a lawn, and who knows how rarely this kind of construction is attempted in a private house at all. The campaign is therefore built in two parts, one inside Tennessee and one beyond it, so each of those buyers is approached on their own terms.

TWO AUDIENCES

One campaign inside Tennessee, one for buyers beyond it.

CHOSEN MARKETS

Six markets chosen for the design-led buyers who move to Nashville.

TAILORED CREATIVE

Six advertisements built for this house, in six shapes, for every screen.

REPORTED TO YOU

A full account of where your home appeared and how buyers responded.

DAYS

Over thirty days your home will be advertised in six markets, inside Tennessee and beyond it. Six advertisements have been built for it, in six shapes, each a slow film of the elevation, the rooms and the decks above Germantown, ending on the address and an invitation to arrange a viewing.

ONE FIGURE TO FOLLOW

The plan set out here is settled. The one figure still to come is the number of impressions — the number of times your home is put in front of someone — which is confirmed once the campaign is under way.

IMPRESSIONS

To be confirmed

In Tennessee, and beyond it.

312 MADISON ST · $7,495,000

The two run side by side, on the same dates, as a single effort. One reaches buyers already living in Tennessee; the other reaches those looking toward Nashville from the cities that have been sending people to it. They do not overlap, so the same buyer is not shown your home twice.

	IN TENNESSEE	BEYOND TENNESSEE
WHO IT REACHES	Buyers already living in Tennessee	Buyers in the five cities that send the most people to Nashville
WHERE IT RUNS	Tennessee, statewide	New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, Atlanta and Dallas
HOW BUYERS ARE FOUND	By where they are, and by whether they are actively looking for a home	By where they are, and by whether they are looking at homes away from where they live
WHERE IT LEADS	A dedicated page for your home	A dedicated page for your home
HOW OFTEN SHOWN	To be confirmed	To be confirmed

The right buyers live in the right places.

The Tennessee campaign covers the whole state, because the buyer most likely to understand this house already knows Germantown and has watched it change.

The second campaign concentrates on the five cities that have sent the most people to Nashville over the past decade, and where an architect-designed city house is an ordinary expectation rather than an unusual one — New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, Atlanta and Dallas. The first two carry the design-led buyer; the other three carry the steady move toward Nashville.

The work, as buyers will see it.

Six advertisements, in six shapes, built for the computer, the tablet and the telephone. Each moves slowly across photographs of the house over fifteen seconds, then closes on the address and an invitation to arrange a viewing. The price is not shown, as is our practice.

In the order it will happen.

Nothing here waits on a decision from you. The advertisements are built and the markets are chosen; what follows is the sequence from here to the report that lands on your desk at the end.
